TAX LIABILITY

Tax liability of foreign companies in Switzerland

Companies domiciled abroad having operational activities within Switzerland are basically liable for value added tax in Switzerland. Companies with a worldwide annual turnover of less than CHF 100'000 from taxable services are exempt from tax liability.

- ◆ Clarification of tax liability of your company in Switzerland
- ◆ Advice with the VAT handling in accordance with the law
- ◆ Support concerning the implementation of the partial revision of the VAT law effective January 1, 2018

FISCAL REPRESENTATION

Domicile for foreign companies

A foreign company which operates in Switzerland and is liable to taxation is obliged by act of law to appoint a tax representative domiciled within Switzerland. This representative provides the company with a domicile for all matters relating to value added tax. Pfister Treuhand AG is recognised as a fiscal representative.

- ◆ Reregistration with the Swiss Federal Tax Administration
- ◆ Preparation and timely submission of the VAT returns
- ◆ Reliable refunding of the paid input tax
- ◆ Handle any correspondence with the Swiss Federal Tax Administration
